DEMOCRATS REVIEW ELECTION RESULTS

RETURNS SHOW REPUBLICANS AND BULL MOOSE UNITING IN EASTERN STATES.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—A statement issued tonight from the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee, commenting on the results of yesterday's elections, said: "The results of yesterday show that the Democrats have made larger gains from the Progressive ranks. This is notably true in Massachusetts, from which state the first official returns are available. The Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Gov. Walsh, made a wonderful race. He pulled the largest vote ever given a Democrat in the state, while Mr. McCall, the Republican candidate, ran way behind the normal Republican vote given party nominees in recent years. The boost of Republicans in Massachusetts that they would carry the state by from 25,000 to 40,000 majority remains unfulfilled.

"The total vote given Walsh yesterday was 229,312, while McCall received 225,918 votes. The votes for Gov. Walsh were nearly 20,000 greater than that he received two years ago, and 37,000 more than he received in 1912.

"In this connection the important fact should not be overlooked that Massachusetts is one of the old-line Republican states. It has elected Republican legislatures and Republican United States senators for generations. The Democratic party is stronger in the state today than ever.

"There were three state election results yesterday where governors were chosen. The Democrats elected a governor to replace a Republican in Maryland. In Kentucky the Democrats elected their candidate for governor, Hon. A. O. Stanley, whose election was opposed by a number of Republican spell-binders of national reputation, including former Vice President Fairbanks. The five victories in two of these closely contested states, and the very remarkable race made by the party leader in the other is highly gratifying to the national Democracy, for all of these states have been in the Republican fold during the past few years.

"Less than four years ago Kentucky had a Republican governor.

"The results yesterday are full of encouragement to Democrats, demonstrating conclusively that it is the constructive and gaining party."

ELECTION RESULTS IN BRIEF SUMMARY

The dropping of the majority against woman suffrage in Pennsylvania to approximately 50,000 and the failure of the Progressives to poll enough votes in the Massachusetts gubernatorial race to maintain their legal standing as a political party are the outstanding features of the latest returns from Tuesday's state elections.

Throughout yesterday the majority against suffrage in Pennsylvania, estimated at times as high as 200,000, decreased. This, with the additional

DIED BY ORDER OF THE GERMAN MILITARY BECAUSE SHE AIDED ALLIED SOLDIERS.

London, Oct. 22.—The British Foreign Office tonight made public the report of Rev. H. S. T. Gahan, the British chaplain in Brussels, who visited Miss Edith Cavell just before her execution and also a report from Brand Whitlock, the American minister to Belgium, to Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador at London. Mr. Whitlock said he requested that the body of Miss Cavell be delivered to the school of nurses of which she was the director, his request being referred to the Minister of War in Berlin.

The Rev. Mr. Gahan said: "On the evening of the 11th of October, I was admitted to the prison at St. Gilles, where Miss Edith Cavell had been confined for ten weeks. The final sentence had been given already that afternoon.

"To my astonishment and relief, I found my friend perfectly calm and resigned, but this could not be due to the tenderness and intensity of feeling on either part during that last interview of almost an hour.

"Her first words to me were upon a matter concerning herself personally, but the solemn assurance which accompanied them was of a different order. In the light of God and eternity, she then added that she wished all her friends to know that she willingly gave her life for her country and said:

"I have no fear for shrinking. I have seen death so often that it is not strange or fearful to me.

"I thank God for this ten weeks of quiet before the end. My life has always been hurried and full of difficulties; this time the rest has been a great mercy. Every one has been very kind to me here. But this I would say, standing as I do before God and eternity, I realize that patriotism is not enough. I must have no hatred or bitterness towards any one."

"We partook of holy communion together, and she received the gospel message of consolation with all her heart. At the close of the little service I began to repeat the words of 'Abide With Me,' and she joined softly in the end.

"We sat quietly talking until it was time for me to go. She gave me parting messages for relatives and friends. She spoke of her scale needs at the moment and she received the assurance of God's word as only a Christian can do.

"Then I said good-bye, and she smiled and said:

"We shall meet again."

"A German military chaplain was with her at the end and afterward gave her a Christian burial. He told me:

"She was brave and bright to the last. She professed her Christian faith and said she was glad to die for her country. She died like a heroine."

Mr. Whitlock, in closing the letter he wrote to Baron Von der Lancken, the German governor, at the request of President Faider of the court of appeals in Brussels, and the president of the Belgian school for nurses, said that Miss Cavell's body be delivered to the school of nurses, said:

"I have not received a written reply to my note to Baron Lancken on the subject but he came to see me yesterday afternoon and stated that the body had been buried near the prison of St. Gilles, where the execution took place, and that under the regulations governing such cases it was impossible to exhumate the body without written permission from the Minister of War at Berlin.

"He added that he had no authority to ask for permission to exhumate the body, but that immediately upon the return of the governor-general he would request him to take the matter up.

"I shall hope to be able to tell you that we have at least been able to accomplish this small service."

GERMANY MAKES AN OFFICIAL EXPLANATION

Says That Execution of Miss Cavell Was Just.

Berlin, Oct. 24 (via The Hague and London).—Dr. A. F. Zimmermann, German Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, has issued an official explanation of the recent execution in Belgium of Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse. He prefaced his remarks by the declaration that he had examined every detail of the evidence with the greatest care and found the verdict, "though regrettable, to be just."

His statement follows:

"I see by the British and American press that the shooting of an English woman and the conviction of several other women in Brussels for treason have caused us to be severely

"EXTRA SESSION" OPENED YESTERDAY

FIVE IMPORTANT BILLS OUT OF SIX TO BE CONSIDERED INTRODUCED IMMEDIATELY.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3.—Within less than thirty minutes after the legislature assembled in extra session Wednesday morning bills touching upon five of the six subjects enumerated by the governor in his call had been introduced in the lower house as follows:

1. A general appropriation bill. 2. Prohibition bill. 3. Western and Atlantic lease renewal bill. 4. Proposed cotton warehouse legislation. 5. Amendments to the motor vehicle laws.

The one legislative subject open to consideration by the legislature under the terms of the governor's limitation, that escaped immediate notice at the hands of the bill writers was the amending of the game and fish laws with reference to fish, oysters, shrimp and prawn besides presenting the general appropriation bill.

Representative Fulbright, of Burke county, regarded as one of the more conservative prohibition leaders, introduced two temperance measures. (1) To amend the present prohibition law and prohibit the sale of any liquor or beer containing more than 1 per cent alcohol; (2) to prohibit the shipment into the state of any intoxicating liquor or beer for the purpose of illegal sale. Representative John W. Bole and his two colleagues from Floyd county, introduced a local option bill, containing three alternative propositions as follows: 1, Absolute prohibition; 2, the licensed sale of whisky and beer; 3, a dispensary system. It is proposed that it shall be left to the voters of each county to decide which of the foregoing alternatives shall be accepted and applied to their respective counties.

DIET FOR THE WAR HORSES

Quantity of Oats is Restricted to Make the German Supply Go Further.

The German government has restricted the quantity of oats which may be given to a horse to 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 pounds daily, and German horse owners are afraid that this restriction will injuriously affect the health and usefulness of their animals. In a recent issue of the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, Doctor Klinger, city veterinarian, shows that these fears are groundless. His experiments, carried on during many years with large numbers of horses, convinced him that maize forms a very satisfactory substitute for oats.

At present, however, maize is as scarce as oats, so that some other substitute must be found. The most obvious one is potatoes, which are very abundant and have been stored in great quantities by all German communities.

Potatoes differ from maize, chiefly in containing a little less starch and considerably less digestible albumen. The deficiency in starch can be met by increasing the ration, and the deficiency in albumen can be compensated by adding a small quantity of some food that is rich in albumen.

PARDONS ARE GRANTED THE "PELLAGRA SQUAD"

REWARD GIVEN TO CONVICTS FOR SUBMITTING TO TESTS OF PUBLIC HEALTH OFFICERS.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 1.—Eleven convicts at the Rankin, Miss., state farm—seven of them serving life sentences—today were granted full pardons by Gov. Brewer as a reward for submitting to prescribed tests by the United States public health authorities to determine the cause of and the cure for pellagra. A twelfth member of the prison "pellagra squad" was released a few months ago because of a physical breakdown.

The granting of freedom to the eleven prisoners followed an official announcement of the Mississippi State Board of Health that experiments conducted at the convict farm under the direction of Dr. Joseph Goldberger and his assistants had demonstrated that pellagra is produced by an unbalanced ration and that Dr. Goldberger was convinced the disease could be cured if the patients were given proper food.

The results of the experiment are considered by prominent physicians in this section as of exceptional importance in the prevention and treatment of the disease, which in recent years, it is declared, has been increasing the death rate in Mississippi and several other Southern states. Physicians stated steps will be taken to introduce the diet treatment for pellagra into various sections where the disease is prevalent.

The experiment was begun Feb. 15, 1915, with twelve prisoners, each of whom was promised a pardon if he followed the diet for a stated period. The diet prescribed by Dr. Goldberger and his assistants had demonstrated that pellagra is produced by an unbalanced ration and that Dr. Goldberger was convinced the disease could be cured if the patients were given proper food.

In issuing the pardons Gov. Brewer told the prisoners they were free to leave the convict farm if they desired, but he urged them to remain several weeks as he nursed back to health. Of the eleven convicts granted their freedom, six were serving life sentences for murder; one a life sentence for criminal assault. One had ten years yet to serve for manslaughter, two about five years each for embezzlement and one about four years for bigamy.

The "pellagra squad" was under the personal supervision of Dr. G. A. Wheeler, assistant surgeon of the United States Public Health Service, who remained on duty constantly from the beginning of the test. The prisoners were given the usual prison fare from Feb. 13 until April 23, after which time they were placed upon the diet prescribed by Dr. Goldberger.

Up to April 23 none had shown symptoms of pellagra. Throughout the period the state authorities maintained secrecy regarding the experiment, because of the fear that relatives of the prisoners under observation might institute habeas corpus proceedings or take other legal steps to have them released from the "pellagra squad."

OUT INTO THE OPEN.

"When the armies of the golden rod
Are ranked along the stream,
When the frost has set its beacon fires
To sentinel the hill;
When a thousand colors gleam,
And the days are full of dream,
Then it's out into the open
And a trace to every ill.

All the brooks have learned new music
To its chill, but cherry sunshine
To its burst of laugh and sigh;
When the blue hill tops blur—
Then it's out into the open,
Where the jivals wind go by.

Faint and far the quail are calling
From the covert down to view,
There's a shimmer on the river
Like a mellow memory.
When the sky is smoky blue,
And the summer's heat is through—
Then it's out into the open,
Where the autumn beckons me!"

Truly we should feel thankful for such lovely autumn weather. The month of November in the South is a most delightful month. The soft haze of our Indian summer imparts a dreamy restful aspect, but the air is cool and invigorating. While we are enjoying the bountiful harvest which He has blessed us in providing, as we set around the fireside enjoying the ruddy glow which covers us with warmth and comfort, the little wild things of the woods are still enjoying the season too in their way. Their time of trouble will come later, but now they are frisking and chasing each other under bush and briar, storing berries and nuts for their winter uses.

A great many birds are now flying southward seeking a warmer climate.
The caterpillar spins its cocoon and all the little creatures of the wood seem to know that cold weather is on its way.

Surely Robert Burns did not have our climate in mind when he wrote the lines beginning thus:
"When chill November's surly blast Made fields and forests bare."

THINGS INTERESTING TO WOMEN.

THE ORIGIN OF "PIN MONEY."

The common pin now in such general use was invented in a crude form during the fourteenth century. For a long time they were very expensive and only the rich and the noble could buy them. Very often the daughters of wealthy people had a sum of money given them when they married with which to buy pins. This gift soon became known as "pin money," and is the term still used to designate small amounts for small expenditures made by women.

American Bachelors.

It will be interesting to unmarried men to know that over fifty per cent of American men are bachelors. This statement is based on the figures of the last census.

Big Trees of California.

The big trees in California are said to be the oldest living things in the world. They are many centuries old.

Read Aloud in the Home.

The habit of reading aloud in the home should be cultivated by all. It unifies the home circle, promotes freshness of thought and power of expression. Then the speech of the reader is improved and that will be a lifetime blessing. A good book or story may be enjoyed by the whole family at once if it is read aloud around the sitting room table. In this way the whole family looks forward to the coming together at evening time, and thus the young members of the family are helped to cultivate the home reading habit, which is a safe habit for all concerned.

Chapped Hands.

If you are very careful to cleanse the hands thoroughly and rinse every particle of soap from them and wipe them dry, you will seldom be bothered by chapped hands. A bit of glycerine and rose water rubbed on the hands is good to prevent roughness. If glycerine does not agree with your skin, use a liniment that contains menthol.

To Destroy the Oar of Onions.

After eating onions, slip slowly a glass of sweet milk and you will not be troubled by the disagreeable odor from eating cooked or raw onions.

THE KITCHEN.

The kitchen is a country where there are always discoveries to be made.

Spoon Bread.

Beat two eggs until light; stir in two cups of sifted corn meal, one cup of sweet milk and one-half cup of butter or oil. Add salt and sugar to taste. Bake in a greased pan.

Baked Oysters.

Butter a baking dish and cover the bottom with bread crumbs or crackers; pour into this one quart of oysters, add salt and pepper to taste. Two tablespoons melted butter. Cover again with crumbs or crackers. Bake in a hot oven until lightly browned. Turn out on a platter, garnish with peppers and serve with tomato sauce.

Liver and Bacon.

Select liver, wash it well and rub it with lard and place it in vinegar with a chopped onion, salt and pepper. Let it stand several hours, then roast it, adding strips of bacon. Baste often with the vinegar mixture. When done, make brown gravy and serve very hot.

Sweetish Cake.

Two tablespoons of butter, two cups of brown sugar, two eggs beaten separately, one cup of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, one-half teaspoonful each of cinnamon and cloves, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, two cups of flour and a pinch of salt. Add nuts and currents if desired. Bake slowly one hour. An excellent cake.

Arranging to hold these annual exhibitions.

"The county fairs of Georgia this year are better than any I have ever seen," said Commissioner Price, in referring to his numerous trips to points in the state where these fairs have been held. "I have not only visited a great many of them, but expect to go to others—everyone I possibly can visit this fall.

"I have particularly noted in the

T. B. FELDER TALKS ABOUT PROHIBITION

SAYS WHISKY INTERESTS WILL ENDEAVOR TO ELECT MEN TO LEGISLATURE FAVORABLE TO REPEAL OF PROHIBITION.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 30.—That the interests opposed to the enactment of effective prohibition laws will make an organized effort to elect their friends to the 1917-1918 legislature is generally believed by well informed observers of state politics in the capital.

The passage of effective prohibition laws at the forthcoming extra session of the legislature is now conceded. Practically the only question on which there is any speculation concerns the date on which the bills will be effective.

Thomas B. Felder, the well known Atlanta lawyer, who has taken a prominent part in fanning the fire of the prohibition bills, and who has been bitterly attacked by the opponents of prohibition, declares the distillers and brewers will not be able to make use of the enormous sums of money which they have placed at the disposal of their agents in Georgia to defeat the bills.

"They would spend a million dollars to defeat the bills, but they can not find any prohibition member of the house that will touch a dollar of their money," said Mr. Felder yesterday afternoon. "The present Georgia legislature is incorruptible, and the whiskey and beer people are rapidly finding that out."

There will probably be no open opposition of any considerable strength to the passage of the bills, but there will be a systematic effort to delay, if not defeat, the bills by means of the introduction of so-called prohibition bills of great variety and of conflicting provisions. This already has become apparent, and members of the legislature who are closely watching the trend of events predict that the opening day of the extra session will witness the introduction of a flood of bills purporting to be drawn in the interest of prohibition.

"The opposition will try to split the prohibition forces by creating differences of opinion as to what is the proper legislation to meet the needs of the situation in Georgia," says Representative Yoemans, of Terrell county, who was in the city yesterday. "They will put forward a raft of bills, some providing one thing, some another, all purporting to be prohibition bills, and each of them differing from every other. By this means they hope to launch the prohibition forces on a long debate as to which is the best bill offered. But the prohibition members of the house will not be misled by such tactics. What they should do, is to agree on prohibition legislation that is genuine, that contains no fear, that will give Georgia effective and enforceable prohibition, and then put through this legislation without any waste of time. If the extra session is prolonged, it will be prolonged by the opponents of prohibition but not by its friends."

The extra session will convene Wednesday, November 3, and already a number of members are in the city, including Speaker W. H. Durrell, of the house, and President G. Ogden Persons, of the senate. Governor Harris, who is now in Macon, will return to the city in time for the opening of the session.

By this means they hope to launch the prohibition forces on a long debate as to which is the best bill offered. But the prohibition members of the house will not be misled by such tactics. If the extra session is prolonged, it will be prolonged by the opponents of prohibition but not by its friends."

The extra session will convene Wednesday, November 3, and already a number of members are in the city, including Speaker W. H. Durrell, of the house, and President G. Ogden Persons, of the senate. Governor Harris, who is now in Macon, will return to the city in time for the opening of the session.

of the situation in Georgia," says Representative Yoemans, of Terrell county, who was in the city yesterday. "They will put forward a raft of bills, some providing one thing, some another, all purporting to be prohibition bills, and each of them differing from every other. By this means they hope to launch the prohibition forces on a long debate as to which is the best bill offered. But the prohibition members of the house will not be misled by such tactics. # AMERICANS TRAIN IN FRENCH CORPS

ARE GETTING PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE THERE FOR SERVICE TO OWN COUNTRY.

Paris, Oct. 28.—The Franco-American flying corps is issuing a circular in which it describes the objects of the corps which are to assist France and to train Americans in military aviation for possible service in the American army should the occasion arise.

"What was the spirit that moves these young American citizens to cross the ocean and volunteer as French aviators?" says the pamphlet. "As one of them said, 'we wish to return the compliment which Lafayette and Rochambeau paid to us, we want to belong to that fine and sportsmanlike institution, the French Aviation Corps, and we felt that Americans ought to help a republic that was in a conflict where the liberty of all nations was at stake.'"

The first American volunteers were Elliot Cowdin, James J. Bach, Francis Curtis, H. G. Gerin, Bert Hall, D. G. Mason, Norman Prince, Andrew Ruel, and William Shaw. They were trained in one of the first aviation schools in France, that at Pau. The candidates are put through eight classes. The first works with a short winged machine called penguin. It has only twenty-five horsepower—not enough to lift it from the ground. The second aims to accustom the learner to regulate the motor and control the levers as in an automobile. No one can pass from one class to another until he has shown aptitude. The observance of this rule has avoided accidents, excepting in very small number.

The second class uses a thirty-five-horsepower penguin also not sufficiently strong to rise into the air. Then a machine is given the pupil in which he can scarcely leave the earth. If he does rise he skims along in straight lines. The fourth class is entrusted with straight line flying on a six-cylinder machine capable of rising about a hundred feet. The fifth contingent practices turning in an aerodrome, so that pupils become thoroughly experienced in wheeling to right or left.

The sixth division undertakes larger circuits at greater heights on fifty-horsepower machines. Cross country flying and spiral ascents and descents to a height of 500 yards are the exercises of the seventh class.

When all of these courses have been finished the pupil enters upon his last instructions, those that prepare him for his military pilot's examination. He must be able to fly for an hour at a time at a height of 6,500 feet, fly triangular across country landing at two different places returning to Pau within forty-eight hours. He must also make long distance flights to three different points and return.

The circular says: The Americans trained at Pau next spent some time at LeBourget near Paris. From this spot there rise every hour numerous aeroplanes which fly over Paris both day and night. In the dark their searchlights look like shooting stars.

The Americans now number twelve men at the front and eleven in training. The corps has club rooms in Paris in the rue Pontneuf.

BRITISH SEIZE AMERICAN SHIP

MUCH FEELING FELT BECAUSE OF A PRACTICAL BLOCKADE OF NEW YORK PORT BY BRITISH WARSHIPS.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Seizure of the American steamer Herkling bound from New York to Norfolk, by British warships, will be made the subject of a vigorous protest to Great Britain at once.

It was learned at the State department that the seizure of the Herkling, which recently was transferred from the Danish to the American flag, is characterized as "high handed and illegal." It is believed in some quarters to indicate that Great Britain plans to drive all neutral commerce from the seas.

Indignation is high over the practical blockade of the port of New York by British warships, but while the war vessels stay outside of the three-mile limit no protest can be made, but their action will have a bearing upon the friendly relations between this country and England.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—The American tank steamer Llano, bound from New York to Copenhagen, has been seized by a British prize crew and run aground on the coast of Scotland while being taken into a British port, according to advices from the American consul at Dundee, Scotland.

DRUGS NEVER SO HIGH AS SINCE WAR BEGAN

MOST SENSATIONAL ADVANCE IN PRICES FOR RAW MATERIAL TRADE HAS KNOWN.

New York, Oct. 26.—The war has seriously affected the drug market, according to the American Druggist and Pharmaceutical Record, which says that "the wisdom of the recommendations of the president of the American Pharmaceutical Association for frequent upward revisions of prescription prices, in view of the enormous advances in the cost of leading drugs, is vindicated by the most sensational uplift of prices for the raw materials which the drug trade has ever known."

The publication continues: "The effect of partial or entire cutting off of this country's supply of foreign botanical drugs, due to the European war, and of sharp upward movements in the primary centers; also caused by the conflict, has at last created 'runaway' markets in several of the most important drugs, and amid excitement such as has never before been noted in these markets, prices for these commodities have soared to unprecedented high levels.

"Chief among the articles needed in prescription compounding which have participated in this latest and wholly unprecedented leap toward top-notch prices have been quinine, salts, glycerine, cod liver oil and virtually all the botanical products in Germany, Austria, Hungary and Turkey. Some conception of the magnitude of the uplift in quinine alone the figures commanded by this article three years ago and now. From February, 1909, until April, 1912, quinine, sulphate, then obtainable may be obtained by a comparison of from foreign makers as well as from American manufacturers, was offered freely on all sides at 14 cents an ounce in 100-ounce tin.

"At the present time all foreign quinine is unobtainable from abroad and the domestic makers have withdrawn from the market, except for continuing deliveries to regular customers on outstanding contracts, after having raised their prices to a nominal basis of 40 cents an ounce. Consumers are paying hitherto unheard of prices, averaging well over $1 an ounce. Several purchases of 'outside' lots of quinine sulphate have recently been effected at the high and incredible levels of $1.10, $1.15 and even $1.20 an ounce. Though not quite so pronounced as the advance in quinine salts the almost ceaseless marking up of prices for such narcotics as opium and its principal derivatives, for anesthetics, such as chloroform and ether, for such disinfectants as carbolic acid and other phenol preparations and for such anodynes and analgesics as cocaine, caffeine, methyl salicylate, and, in fact, all the salicylates and benzoates, which have also been bought extensively here by Europe, has been truly startling."

HON. TOM HUDSON TO BE CANDIDATE IN THE THIRD

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 28.—Atlanta friends of Thomas G. Hudson, of America, former commissioner of agriculture and one of the best known men in Georgia, have been advised that Mr. Hudson would be a candidate for Congress in the third district next year.

The third district is now represented by Congressman Chas. Crisp, who is serving his second term, he having been re-elected last year without opposition. It is not known here whether Mr. Crisp will again seek re-election, but it is not believed that Mr. Hudson would be a candidate against him, as they are known to be fast and loyal friends. It is therefore presumed that Mr. Hudson would not be making plans to run unless he felt certain that Congressman Crisp would not again be a candidate.

MUST WIN STRUGGLE REGARDLESS OF COST

IF NEUTRALS ARE INJURED BRITAIN CANNOT CHANGE POLICY, SAYS BRITISH PRESS.

London, Nov. 8.—The attitude taken by the London morning newspapers in commenting on the American note to Great Britain is generally that although the points raised in the note are all open to argument, Great Britain's position is that she is engaged in a life and death struggle and therefore has to consider all questions on the practical basis of winning the war; that such a world war is bound to carry some inconveniences to neutrals; but that as far as is possible and consistent with doing everything in her power to win the war she is careful to do as little as possible to injure the interests of neutrals.

It is also contended that neutrals, having failed to act when the Germans contravened international law by sinking neutral ships and ships with neutral passengers, is necessary for Great Britain to take some action.

The Daily Mail says: "Our people are so engrossed with the war that it is doubtful whether they have yet clearly realized the intricacy and delicacy of the problems which have arisen in this connection between Great Britain and the United States. These problems are attracting a great deal of attention and are causing some feeling in the United States. Very much more is likely to be heard from them during the next few weeks."

After quoting the American argument the Daily Mail says: "Our case is a very strong one—that the orders in council were in reply to Germany's repudiation of all international laws. The people who wickedly torpedoed neutral ships and ships with neutral passengers, and which sowed the sea with mines showed complete indifference to the rights of which the United States declares itself the unhesitating champion.

"We waited for the neutrals to act, and as they did not act, we acted ourselves in the interests of humanity. The doctrines which we applied are in essence those laid down by the United States courts in the Civil War. They are applied to the new conditions of modern warfare, but their adaptation does not imply contravention of principles. If in the Civil War the United States ships generally were not torpedoes, no submarines and no mines spread broadcast on the open water."

Containing that Great Britain observed the blockade in the Civil War, of which Prof. Soley said "the principle is not a new one, though a novel application has been made of it to circumstances," and John Thomas Scharf, the Confederate historian, said "there was no effective blockade of any Confederate port, and yet England respected the blockade which produced such distress at home rather than aid the Confederacy, whose corner stone was slavery," the Daily Mail concludes: "The Americans are a just people. We should ask them to think over those words and at the same time to consider whether our submarine blockade recently instituted in the Baltic does not meet most of the conditions."

FACTIONS FAIL TO AGREE AND FINISH FIGHT IS ON

HOUSE ADJOURNS AFTER VAIN EFFORT AT COMPROMISE BETWEEN PROS AND ANTIS.

Atlanta, Nov. 11.—The prohibitionists and the anti-prohibitionists in the house tried to reach a compromise Wednesday morning and failed, and leaders of both sides state that the fight is now on to the finish.

At 11 o'clock, after being in session an hour and making no progress, the house took a recess to give opportunity for negotiations. The prohibition steering committee named a committee of seven, and the opposition caucus named a committee of seven. These two committees went in conference in the speaker's room behind closed doors.

After an hour's discussion the prohibition committee agreed that they would recommend to the prohibition caucus a compromise on this basis: For the omnibus prohibition bill to become effective April 1, 1916, instead of January 1, 1916.

The prohibition committee then retired, and the opposition caucus convened. After half an hour's discussion the opposition came back with this counter proposition: For the omnibus bill to become effective May 1, 1916, and for this bill to place a one-half of one per cent alcohol clause in the section referring to malt beverages, just as it now reads with reference to whiskey and wine.

This counter proposition the prohibition steering committee flatly rejected, without even calling a prohibition caucus. The house reconvened, and a few minutes later adjourned until 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Individual prohibition members say if the opposition filibuster continues, they will favor making all the bills effective immediately upon their passage, but as yet there appears to be no organized movement of this sort among the prohibitionists.

Commercial Job Printing of all kinds done on short notice at reasonable prices. BULLOCH TIMES.

The differences raised by President Wilson.

The Daily News remarks on the fact that the note is couched in vigorous, uncompromising language paralleled in the American notes to Germany, but hitherto foreign to the communications passed between Washington and London, and admits that no mistake could be greater than to underestimate the seriousness of the contentions advanced by the United States.

On point of detail the Daily News recognizes the complaint that American ships seized at sea by British and other exactions is reasonable, and says this should be rectified. The newspapers express the belief that Washington will recognize that the recent activity of British submarines in the Baltic materially modifies the contention that the blockade is ineffective.

On the broad question, the Daily News considers that though it may be impossible to supersede prize courts by an international court of the first instance, there is nothing to prevent the settlement of the difficulties by the institution of a panel of jurists of certain of the allied and neutral countries.

Asked regarding peace suggestions, he said: "What are these peace suggestions? They are heard first in one country and then another impersonal and impetuous. They irritate at the present stage of the war. I do not wish to consider them even to the extent of a public denial and rejection. We can think of nothing but to drive forward to complete success by arms."

Speaking with much feeling the premier added: "Even to mention a peace by compromise or concession is to be untrue to those who are giving their lives at the front."

At another time when America was mentioned Mr. Brind declared "The war has brought Americans much closer to us even than they were before. Frenchmen appreciate deeply the sympathy and good will in your country. That perhaps is because the feeling is more intense now than in time of peace."

SLIP OF PEN MADE LIQUOR A FAVORITE

THE WORD "NOT" AT THE WRONG PLACE, CHANGED PROHIBITION BILL ENTIRELY.

Atlanta, Nov. 6.—Instead of prohibiting any "drink, liquor or beverage" containing one-half of one per cent of alcohol or more" as its supporters intended, the Stovall prohibition bill, which passed the senate yesterday, prohibits "any drink, liquor or beverage containing not more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol."

The terrifying discovery was made this morning by one of the senate enrolling clerks, and when the news reached the prohibitionists they immediately called a caucus for tonight to devise ways and means of correcting the mistake.

What they can do and probably will do is to reconsider the bill when the senate meets Monday, and rearrange the language of line eleven, section one, so as to carry out their desire and plan "in re" the promotion of temperance and the suppression of the evils of intemperance. Senator Dewitt C. Pickett of the Eleventh district is the guilty party. When the Stovall bill was passed in the senate yesterday morning the senator introduced an amendment changing the language in the manner above stated. The senator is a prohibitionist and a supporter of the Stovall bill, so naturally his amendment aroused no suspicion among them. They accepted it without question, adopted it, and made it a part of the bill.

Now comes the before-mentioned reading clerk with the disclosure that the senator's amendment legalizes the sale of any drink containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol. In other words, the more alcohol a drink contains the more legal it is, while the less alcohol it contains the more illegal it is. Under such a law it would be unlawful to manufacture, sell, offer for sale, keep on hand, give away, etc., such things as water, milk, coffee, tea, chocolate milk and various other soft drinks that are so popular with soda fountain tapers.

Among the list of soft drinks outlawed by such a law would be "Chero-Cola," which is manufactured by no less a prohibitionist than Senator Pickett himself. Of course the prohibitionists do not believe the senator intended to play such havoc with the Stovall bill. He is not here to defend himself, having hurried away to spend the week-end at home, and in his absence they have charitably formulated an explanation for him, which is that he must have had his eye on line 11, section one, of some other prohibition bill when he wrote his amendment. Inasmuch as the desks of members are littered with the prohibition bills of all kinds, this seems reasonable.

PEACE TALK IMPOS-SIBLE SAYS BRAIND

MENTION OF COMPROMISE IS UNTRUE TO MEN AT THE FRONT, HE DECLARES.

Paris, Nov. 10.—Astride Brind, chief of the new war ministry of France, received the American newspaper correspondents in a body today, invited them to ask questions or make requests relative to their work.

Asked regarding peace suggestions, he said: "What are these peace suggestions? They are heard first in one country and then another impersonal and impetuous. They irritate at the present stage of the war. I do not wish to consider them even to the extent of a public denial and rejection. We can think of nothing but to drive forward to complete success by arms."

Speaking with much feeling the premier added: "Even to mention a peace by compromise or concession is to be untrue to those who are giving their lives at the front."

At another time when America was mentioned Mr. Brind declared "The war has brought Americans much closer to us even than they were before. Frenchmen appreciate deeply the sympathy and good will in your country. That perhaps is because the feeling is more intense now than in time of peace."

AMERICANS PERISH ON SUNKEN SHIP

AUSTRIAN SUBMARINE FIRED UPON LIFEBOATS AFTER SINKING ITALIAN LINER, KILLING TWO CHILDREN.

Rome, Nov. 10.—How many persons lost their lives in the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona by a submarine in the Mediterranean has not been definitely ascertained, but latest advices from Naples say 320 survivors have been landed at Tunis ports and fifty at Malta. The number of passengers on the Ancona is placed at 482, and the crew has been estimated variously from 60 to 160.

The Ancona carried boats for the accommodation of 2,500 and it is possible that some of the boats are still afloat and may bring in additional survivors within the next twenty-four hours.

The Ancona was torpedoed Tuesday morning and a Tunis dispatch to the Grignale d'Italia gives a dramatic, though brief account of the attack. "A submarine approached the Ancona towards noon," says this account, "and as soon as the steamer saw it, an attempt was made to escape. The Ancona was overtaken and stopped. Then the submarine fired on the Ancona, sinking her amid the desperate cries of the passengers.

"The lifeboats were next attacked, the submarine likewise firing on them. A woman, a man and two children were killed; their bodies are at Bizerta."

"The submarine then disappeared immediately, proceeding probably in the direction of the Aegean sea."

"Before sinking, the Ancona was able to send out a wireless call for help. This was heard by the station at Bizerta. Aid was sent promptly, and two lifeboats and ten sailors were saved. They were taken to Ferryville (in the environs of Bizerta) where they were attended by physicians and the consul.

"Among the survivors are a number of wounded emigrants, nearly all Venetians, and ten Greeks. A number of the survivors seem to have lost their reason as the result of their terrible experience."

The official list of survivors issued in Rome includes one American woman, Mrs. Cecil Griel of New York, 145 Italians, sixteen Greeks and one Russian.

The statement is made that twenty-four of the Ancona's passengers were naturalized Americans. Of these nothing is known at the present time.

BELIEVED THAT LINER ATTEMPTED TO ESCAPE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—About twenty-seven Americans are believed to have been lost with the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona, according to a cablegram to the State Department tonight from Ambassador Page at Rome. These caused much concern in official quarters. There was no real tension, however, because news dispatches which referred to the sinking of the Ancona by an Australian submarine led to the belief generally among officials that the Italian vessel ignored a warning and attempted to escape. This, in the view of the government, would justify a submarine commander in the use of force.

If the Australian commander gave warning and torpedoed the Ancona only after she endeavored to escape, it is unlikely that the question of submarine operations will become a subject of diplomatic correspondence with Austria.

SHIP "SWIPED" FROM AMERICAN OWNERS SUNK BY SUBMARINE

Algiers, Algeria, Nov. 9.—The French steamship Yvon, formerly known as the Dacia, which was seized by a French cruiser last February, while carrying a cargo of cotton from the United States to Germany, has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine.

The news of the sinking of the Yvon was contained in an official announcement today, which read: "The French ship Yvon, formerly the Dacia, renamed after her sale by the prize court, was torpedoed while conveying to Bizerta the passengers saved from the Italian steamer Euxine. The entire crew and passengers were landed."

GREAT OBSERVANCE OF GEORGIA PRODUCTS DAY

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE INVITES CITIZENS OF COUNTY TO JOIN IN CELEBRATION.

Next Thursday, Nov. 11, will be Georgia Products Day all over the state—every city, town and community is invited to join in the occasion, and many have stated their intention to do so.

Bulloch county will not be out of the spirit—she, too will observe the day in proper manner. Under the auspices of the Statesboro Board of Trade plans are being made for a celebration to be held at the Agricultural school, to which all the people of Bulloch county are invited, and in which they are urged to join. A barbecue will be served for the occasion, for which purpose the members of the Board of Trade and others have agreed to donate meats and cash. The farmers of the county who feel generously inclined are also solicited to assist in the matter as they may see fit, but whether they contribute or not, all are invited to be present and share in the festivities of the occasion.

As the name indicates, the plan is to serve only Georgia products for the day. All over the state this is to be done on that date, the object being to encourage the use of home products by Georgians. Wheat bread grown in Bulloch county, with every thing else necessary, can be included in the bill or fare, and probably will be.

Prof. F. M. Rowan and the boys of the Agricultural school will provide the tables for the occasion, and assist in every other way to make the occasion a success.

The stores and business places of Statesboro will be closed from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. for the purpose of allowing an opportunity to employees to participate in the occasion. The Statesboro Municipal Band will be present and make music, and addresses will be made by public officials, men. Incidentally to the occasion, there is a big business proposition—important to every farmer in the county—which it is planned to bring to definite shape on that date: A packing house proposition. Every farmer in the county will profit by such an enterprise—every farmer should be glad to help in its inauguration. Next Thursday will be the time to put a shoulder to the wheel.

Anyway, whether you are a money man or only a well wisher to every enterprise which tends to the development of our country, come out. There will be something of interest. Bring a basket along and help feed the crowds; there will be plenty of meat and bread.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.

Whereas: Hon. Nat. E. Harris, governor of the state of Georgia, has seen fit to designate Thursday, Nov. 18th, as Georgia Products Day, urging upon the citizens to join together in Georgia products dinners, exhibits, parades, etc., intended to further the best interests of all the people toward the uplift of the commonwealth; and Whereas, The citizens of Statesboro and the Statesboro Board of Trade, and the citizens of Bulloch county, the City of Statesboro, this ninth day will join on that day in a general of November, nineteen hundred and fifteen.

SENATE PASSES BILL WHICH APPLIES ALIKE TO NEWSPAPERS AND BILLBOARDS.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 9.—By a vote of 34 to 5, the senate today at noon passed the drastic Mingham-Ransom bill which prohibits every manner and kind of liquor advertising in Georgia. This bill, authored by Senator J. J. Mingham of the Thirty-eighth and W. M. Ransom of the Forty-second, makes it a misdemeanor for any one to sell or offer for sale any newspaper, periodical, magazine or other publication containing advertisements of any alcoholic drink—whisky, wine, beer and every other kind of drink.

The bill provides for the enforcement of this by making the selling of these publications a misdemeanor, thus putting it within the power of the state to stop in Georgia the sale of New York newspapers, magazines and periodicals containing liquor advertisements. In Alabama, where a similar law is now in force, dealers in periodicals containing such advertisements either cut out the offending advertisements or else cover them with smears of black ink.

The bill doesn't stop here, however, but prohibits absolutely all liquor advertising on bill boards, in street cars, by means of electric signs or in any other way, shape or form.

Before this bill was passed Senator Way, of the Second district moved that the senate reconsider its action of Monday in passing the radical Stovall anti-shiping bill, a bill which limits the amount of whiskey a man can have shipped to him in one month to half a gallon. Senator Way's objection was that this was too much whiskey for thirty days use.—he wanted the amount to one pint. He said, "Let's have real prohibitions as they are going to have any at all." His motion, however, was voted down 20 to 18.
